In the Republic of Uganda in Africa, there are still many women and children suffering from the disasters of war and aids. The Student Council of the former Awa Minami high school has been supporting Uganda for 14 years up until school closing this spring by holding supporting bazaars for Uganda. We sent some used sewing machines which were from previously closed domestic course, and a job training school named "The Awa-Minami Dressmaking School" was built in 2001. Children there are obtaining operating funds for the school and living expenses through the farming. But they are in a very difficult situation because the used truck which was given by Awa-Minami high school has broken down. In order to purchase another used truck, 1200,000 yen will be needed, so they need an urgent fund support. Please do not extinguish the source of fire for international cooperation which the youth in the community lit up. Please help and support them.
